

THINKING OF BECOMING A GOVERNOR?

WELCOME FROM THE CHAIR

I'm delighted that you're thinking of becoming a governor of our Trust. It's a hugely rewarding role and crucial to the development of the hospitals and the services we deliver. In this guide we provide information on what it means to be a governor and provide answers to questions we're often asked.

I hope that this information inspires you to stand for election and that I have the opportunity to welcome you as a governor of the Trust in the near future.

Peter Hollins
Chair of the Trust Board

AN OVERVIEW OF OUR TRUST

We are a centre of clinical academic excellence where new treatments are being discovered, new healthcare professionals are being trained and cutting edge developments are being put into practice. Although we share many features with other large university hospitals across the world, we believe that we stand out because of our ambition to improve and our heartfelt compassion for the patients we look after.

We provide services to over 1.9 million people living in Southampton and south Hampshire, and specialist services such as neurosciences, cancer care, cardiac services and children's intensive care to more than 3.7 million people in central southern England and the Channel Islands. We're a designated major trauma centre, one of only two places in the south of England to offer adults and children full onsite major trauma care provision.

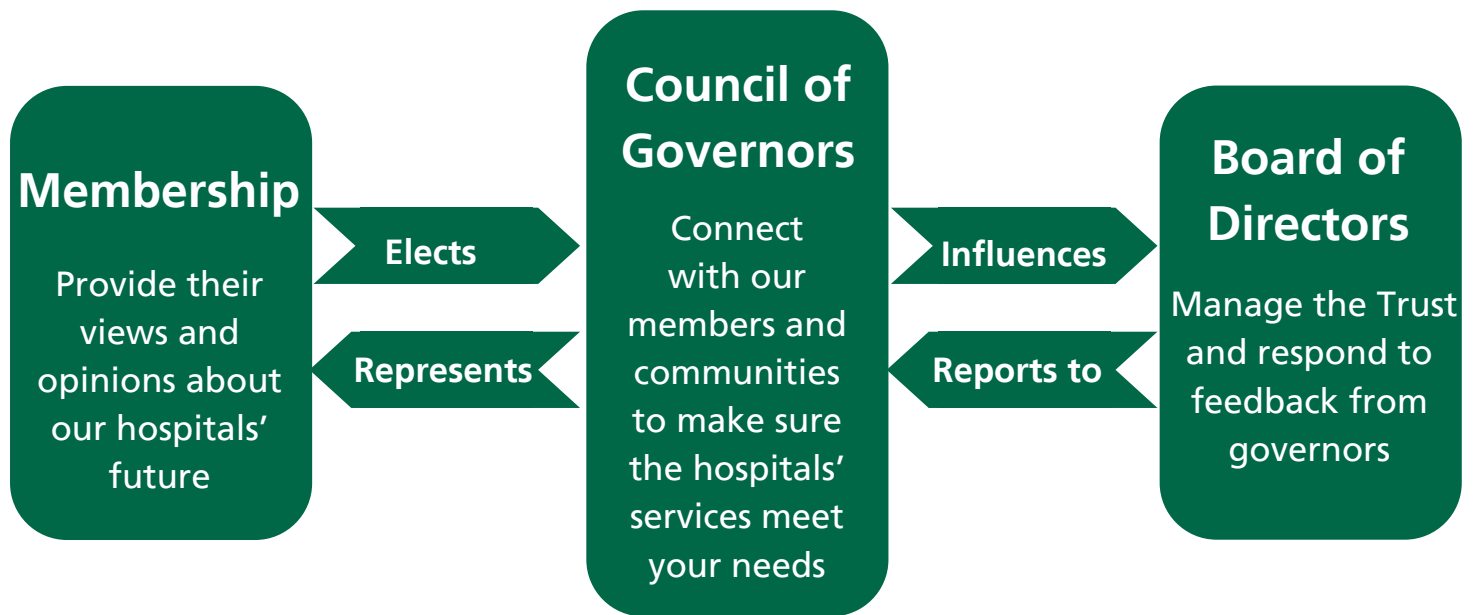

We operate across three sites:

- 1. Southampton General Hospital
- 2. Princess Anne Hospital
- 3. The New Forest Birthing Centre

We also provide services at the Royal South Hants Hospital, Queen Alexandra Hospital, Portsmouth, Poole Hospital, Royal Bournemouth Hospital, Salisbury District Hospital, Royal Hampshire County Hospital, Winchester, Basingstoke and North Hampshire Hospital, St Mary's Hospital, Isle of Wight, Chichester, Jersey and Guernsey.

THE ROLE OF A GOVERNOR

Most of our governors are elected from our Trust members to represent the interests of our staff and the people we serve. As a governor you'll be a crucial link between our members and local communities and the Trust's board of directors. You'll engage with our members to share information about the Trust's performance and future plans, listen to their feedback and represent their views and interests to the board of directors.

The duties of the council of governors

- Represent the interests and views of members and the public
- Hold the non-executive directors to account for the performance of the board of directors
- Appoint and remove the chair and non-executive directors
- Decide the remuneration and the other terms and conditions of office for the non-executive directors and the chair
- Appoint and remove the Trust's external auditor
- Approve the appointment of the chief executive
- Receive the annual report and accounts and the external auditor's report on these
- Approve any annual increase of more than 5% in the Trust's non-NHS income
- Approve significant transactions, mergers or acquisitions planned by the Trust
- Approve any amendments to the Trust's constitution alongside the board of directors
- Contribute to the development of the Trust's forward plan
- Communicate and engage with members and the wider public, sharing information about the hospitals and future plans
- Encourage people to become members of the Trust and learn more about our hospitals

Governors aren't responsible for the day-to-day management of the organisation and do not get directly involved in the way services are run. Governors don't deal with patient complaints or act as champions for individual patient issues.

COUNCIL OF GOVERNORS

Our council of governors is made up of elected and appointed governors. Public and staff members each elect governors to represent them within their own constituency. Our appointed governors represent the organisations we work most closely with to ensure we're listening to a wide range of views.

BENEFITS OF BEING A GOVERNOR

- Make a difference to the care and services provided to patients at our hospitals
- Learn more about the health service and our hospitals
- Use your existing skills, knowledge and experience to make a positive contribution and develop new skills
- Support our hospitals, perhaps giving something back if the NHS has had an impact on your life or the lives of those close to you

TRAINING AND SUPPORT

You'll be invited to an induction session when you start your role as a governor, where you'll have the opportunity to meet other governors and find out more about the Trust. You'll be given a governor's handbook and training, and staff are available to provide support to you and help you develop in the role.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Q How do I become a governor?

A You will need to be a member of our Trust before you can stand for election as a governor (visit www.uhs.nhs.uk/members to sign up). If there is a governor vacancy in the area in which you live, you can put yourself forward for election.

Q Am I eligible to become an elected governor?

A As long as you're at least 16 years of age, a Trust member and can meet the requirements set out in our constitution, you can become a governor. You don't need any specific previous experience or qualifications.

Papers for meetings and communications with governors outside meetings are all provided electronically and meetings may also be held virtually using Microsoft Teams. Those applying to be a governor should have access to a personal computer, laptop or tablet and be comfortable using this technology, particularly email and Microsoft Teams.

Q How do the elections work?

A There will be a formal election process and all members of the Trust will be sent ballot papers if the election is contested. Our elections are monitored and run by an independent third party organisation.

Q How long is the term of office?

A The term of office for all governors is three years and you can serve a maximum of six years as a governor (two terms of three years), subject to re-election. If your personal circumstances change and you have to step down during that time, you should discuss this with the chair.

Q How do I fulfil the remit of holding the non-executive directors to account for the performance of the board of directors?

A In order to do this it's helpful to see the board of directors and non-executive directors in action. There is an expectation that governors will engage with directors by attending board of directors' and committee meetings.

You can also take part in other visits and events, which provide an opportunity for one-on-one engagement with directors.

Q How do I gather the views of patients, members and the community and feed back to them on actions?

A There are a variety of ways to do this.

- Members can contact their governor through a central governor email address.
- Meet members at hosted member events, the annual open day, community events and the annual members' meeting.
- Using the e-newsletter that's sent to all members with an email address.
- Putting information on the members' pages of the Trust's website.
- Volunteering at the Trust to meet patients, staff and visitors and gain first-hand experience of life in the hospital.

The Trust continues to develop the ways in which it engages with members and governors play a key role in this.

Q What are the council of governors' working groups?

A There are three working groups that focus on key issues - patient and staff experience, membership and engagement and strategy and finance.

The council of governors has also established the governors' nomination committee. It makes recommendations to the council of governors on the appointment and re-appointment of the chair and non-executive directors and the remuneration and evaluation of performance of the chair and non-executive directors.

Q How much time will I spend on governor duties?

A You will be expected to participate in a number of meetings:

- There are four council of governors' meetings each year plus an annual strategy day.
- Working group meetings are normally held four times a year.
- In addition, you'll be expected to attend board of directors' and committee meetings, hospital and public events.

Q How do I keep up to date with what is going on at the Trust?

A The communications team and corporate affairs team will keep you updated by sending you important information by email. The Trust website is also a useful resource for news, meeting papers and contacts.

Q Will I be paid and can I claim expenses?

A Governors are volunteers and don't get paid but are entitled to claim expenses incurred when participating in governor events such as council of governors' meetings. Expenses are paid at rates agreed by the council of governors and include travel by car or public transport and carer costs. Any claim for expenses will need to be accompanied by a receipt.
